Captain's Log

20148.02

(2 August 2014)

My trip from last month continued. I left Tacoma and ended up in Las Vegas for a couple of days. I was there for the Fourth. I didn't get out on the town and you can read more about that part of the trip in the Engineer's Log. I spent time with Rhonda's mom and we had a good visit. I have a special place in my heart for her and she is definitely a mom for the ages.

A second major event of the month was 2 trips to see the Cardinals play ball. Both games were wins and on one of those trips we joined member David Allen. What a great month for us and the game of baseball. I've included a few photos. I love going to the game and being a part of the team fan experience. The second game was an either or and we missed the Edward Jones Rams Fan Day. Oh well. The Cards won.

We have again moved our season tickets for the Rams. I'm not really sure how good we are this year, but, we are on the home team side. Yeah!!

I am having fun working as the new cruise director for our ship. I did not realize how much work it is to put a meeting date together. Making sure the location will provide what the chapter needs checking on power, handicap access, and large group space.

I have also talked the CO into looking at another method of connecting the awards onto the uniform. Hopefully soon, we will have a way of getting this done. Its been a few years and we need to move on.

EMAIL PROBLEMS REPAIRED

That says it all. Everything appears to be back to normal.

TACOMA & LAS VEGAS

Yes, I worked on computer problems for a member while in Tacoma. Although we resolved some of the issues it will be best to completely reformat and start over.

On the return trip I made a stop in Las Vegas where I was definitely the Chief Engineer. I spent 2 days working on home repairs and computer issues with Dora Clark and we got quite a bit accomplished. Dora is a fine addition to the chapter's Engineering staff.
