A SUMMARY OF NIMOY'S NON-TREK LIFE

Leonard Simon Nimoy was born on March 26, 1931, in Boston, Massachusetts, the youngest child of Max and Dora, Yiddish-speaking Jewish immigrants who had escaped from Stalinist Russia. Leonard and older brother Melvin sold newspapers in Boston Common.

Leonard Nimoy was 8 years old when he appeared in his first play. He performed throughout his teen years at Boston's English High School, and after his graduation in 1949, he attended Boston College. Nimoy submitted an application to California's Pasadena Playhouse while in college. He made his way out to the West Coast using money he earned by selling vacuum cleaners.

By the early 1950s, Nimoy first title role came with 1952's Kid Monk Baroni. Nimoy served a two-year stretch in the U.S. Army Reserve from 1953 to 55, and married Sandra Zober in 1954. He resumed his acting career in 1955. He became a father of two; daughter Julie was born in 1955 and son Adam followed in 1956.

Nimoy got parts in various shows included Dragnet, The Rough Riders, Sea Hunt, Bonanza, The Twilight Zone, Dr. Kildaire and Perry Mason. Gene Roddenberry discovered Nimoy in a featured role on a 1965 episode of The Lieutenant. Of course Star Trek premiered in 1966. (Continued on page 7)

(28 February 2015)

Phillip Allen is back at home and also back at work. He is recovering nicely. He has seen the light at the end of the proverbial tunnel so to speak and is a lot more into everything and is really sampling life in a good way.

It has been a winter wonderland of late. I've included photos from my end. Share yours... We have been so very busy lately. I have worked many overtime hours because of the cold weather and Rhonda always works a lot of hours. The snow is starting to add up, though.

I went to Kansas City for the reception of the daughter of member Dave Kaplan. We all had a very good time and of course I felt the need to put on a suit. How often do I wear one? Never. I've included a photo just for everyone's amusement.

Leonard Nimoy has passed away after 83 years on this Earth. He died on 27 February 2015. I cannot give a better tribute than those out there.

Flight Control Log

I hate winter most of all as you all of you know. Snow and ice are not meant for me here but for some silly Star Wars planet named Hoth. I don't own a TaunTaun, I own a car that hates cold as much as I do and breaks down every other week during the winter.

I hate to admit it but I did get outside to shovel snow during one of the storms. That is not my idea of exercise either. I have a tread mill and can walk on it in the semi-warmth of my house. The Eddie indoors snow storms are a lot warmer than outdoors. I think they are? Sometimes I'm not so sure.

I'm more of a Tatooine woman! I'm a desert person from good ole' Las Vegas.
